Tucumcari will have no spring term of district court, we must wait until next fall.

Tucumcari is today the automobile city of northeast New Mexico, and with a line to Amarillo in action there will be ten or more in the city.

Attorney General Reid is going to resign the first of the month and it is generally believed that W. W. Clancy of Albuquerque will be his successor.

An epidemic of scarlet fever is a thing to be deprecated. The bulletin of the health office in this issue should be carefully heeded by the people. Forelock time and prevent a contagion.

Owing to the bum service of the Rock Island railway company, it is impossible for Tucumcari's four lumber companies to supply the demands of our contractors and builders. Consequently there are a half dozen or more buildings waiting for material.

If one had been so disposed, 50 wagon loads of farm machinery could have been counted this week leaving the warehouses of the M. B. Goldenberg and Gross, Kelly companies and the store of A. B. Simpson and that of Barnes & Rankin.

The friends of Governor George Curry of Samar, Philippine Islands, will rejoice when they learn that he is to succeed Governor Hagerman as governor of New Mexico. No man in this great territory will question that Governor Curry loves New Mexico and her people better than he does himself. He has spent the most of his life here and is thoroughly conversant with every condition, good, bad and indifferent in our local government. The people will rejoice without exception when he returns to his native land to become governor of his favorite state

Complimentary Suggestions.

Reviewing the proceeding of the district court at Santa Rosa, the correspondent to the Santa Fe New Mexican says:

"Judge Mann continues to elicit the praises of the bar and laymen for his fair and courteous manner of conducting the business of his court, and for the rapidity with which he clears the dockets, thus conserving the funds of the county while the cause of justice is not allowed to suffer. District Attorney Mechem has made an enviable record at this term of court. Careful, systematic and conversant with the conditions of the county, as well as being well acquainted with the nature of the people he has to deal with, he worked with zeal and determination from the first day to the last of the term, and has been successful in ridding the county of some very undesirable characters, besides making for himself a reputation as a prosecuting attorney which more mature lawyers might well be proud of."

In the case of Territory vs. Barney Greer for embezzlement, the correspondent pays a very deserving compliment to Attorney C. C. Davidson, who made the fight of his life in this defense. The reference is:

"Charles C. Davidson of Tucumcari, familiarly known among his friends and admirers as the 'Little Giant,' defended Greer in such an earnest and energetic manner as to win the praises of the bench and bar, as well as the compliments of E. R. Wright, the local attorney for the Rock Island interests at this point, who prosecuted this case with fervor and determination."

Dry Farmers' Meeting.

Prof. J. D. Tinsley, soil physicist at the agricultural college, Masilla valley, will be here Monday the 22d and would like to have a meeting of the farmers of Quay county about Tuesday night at the court house to go over the subject of dry farming with them. A good crowd will be greatly appreciated and much good may come of the meeting. This next week, beginning Monday, the 22d, is carnival week, anyhow, and every farmer in the county can afford to come to town one day.

Mounted Policemen W. E. Dudley and Meyer arrived here Sunday morning and joined in the chase of Hern and Wilson and were with the posse fifty miles south of here when last heard of.
